

The First Britons: Who ruled Britain before 1066?

Year 7 History Topic One Homework Project

DUE DATE:

In this topic, you have been exploring who ruled Britain before 1066. We have studied the Romans, the Anglo-Saxons and the Vikings!

For your assessment for this topic, we are looking at Alfred the Great and thinking about why people believe he was a 'great' king.

For your homework, you are going to research Alfred the Great and produce a piece of work based on his life. You will be able to use the information you learn in your assessment.

There are some instructions on what to include and some ideas further down on the page.

You must include:

- Information about his early life - where was he born? What was his family like?
- What was Alfred like as King?
- How did he deal with the Vikings attacking his kingdom?

Ideas on what you could do:

- A book
- A PowerPoint (and upload to your google classroom)
- A written piece of work
- A speech
